READING SAFARI

With Author Bart Taylor

This celebration of early literacy and reading will take place on March 26 at the Oklahoma City Zoo, with a special theme: America250: Sharing America's Stories. Help us celebrate the Quarter Millennium by learning about historical figures like Will Rogers and imagining what the next 250 years might bring!

A limited number of kindergarten classes will be selected to attend the event. As special guests, these classes will receive paid admission to the Zoo, and students will receive a copy of this year's book prior to the event.

Zoo admission and books are made possible by the generosity of public and private sponsors. The application window is open until January 16 for Oklahoma schools!

SCHOOLS INTERESTED in sending classes to attend should submit an application by January 11! Find out how to apply at oklahoma.gov/libraries/read.
