

Below is a checklist for medical marijuana businesses that includes common permits, licenses, registrations and/or reminders from other regulatory entities. The information below is not exhaustive and serves only as a compliance and regulatory resource.

<input type="checkbox"/>	Growers, processors, dispensaries, labs and researchers need to register with the Oklahoma Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs (OBND).
<input type="checkbox"/>	Activate an account in Metrc .
<input type="checkbox"/>	If you plan to have a building or structure, you will need a certificate of occupancy or final inspection report from the appropriate Authority Having Jurisdiction (your city, county or the State Fire Marshal).
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dispensaries and processors need a tax permit from the Oklahoma Tax Commission .
<input type="checkbox"/>	A permit with LP Gas if you use, plan to use, any propane or butane gas for extraction.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Oklahoma Department of Agriculture, Food and Forestry (ODAFF) license if you plan to sell seeds or process hemp.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dispensaries and processors need a food license through the Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH) if producing or selling edible medical marijuana products.
<input type="checkbox"/>	A permit from the Oklahoma Water Resources Board (OWRB) for uses related to agriculture, irrigation, water supply, etc.
<input type="checkbox"/>	If located outside of municipal limits, contact the rural water district serving the area to see if water service is available. The Oklahoma Rural Water Association can help you locate contact information for the district.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Submit the foreign financial interest attestation within 60 days of license approval. Businesses must submit one attestation for each commercial license.

For more information, please visit our website: oklahoma.gov/OMMA